Abbie Hogan olds 8+ years of playing experience. This includes rec leagues (indoor, grass, & beach), grade school, 4 years of high school, and 6 years of club. She played as an outside, middle, and right-side hitter and defensive specialist. During her senior year, she and her team qualified for the state tournament. She was the student-athlete leader of the year for dedication and leadership skills. Abbie graduated from Carthage College with a bachelor's degree in Exercise Sports Science, emphasizing K12 Physical Education, a minor in Health, and certifications in coaching.

Abbie has started to mentor girls as young as middle school because her philosophy is that the younger we include active and healthy routines in young girls' lives the more adept they are at living active lives into adulthood. Outside of coaching and teaching, she enjoys working out, cooking healthy meals, and spending time with family. She also coaches club ball at Wisconsin Juniors Volleyball Club.
